1. From Quality Gardens, 1937: This iris is another of the newer race of large pinks. It is deeper in color than Morocco Rose and slightly veined. The beard is lemon yellow and the flower is a nice lilac pink of full form, carried on tall, branched stalks.
2. For the first time I saw Miss California and recalled Mr. Salbach's enthusiastic description of this flower in the autumn of '35 when it was still an unnamed seedling. It is living up to his hopes with fine stalk, well branched, large flower of pleasing rose-purple tones, apparently hardy here. [Lucy W. Tinley, "Midwest Iris Notes", A.I.S. Bulletin 75 (December 1939): 17.]
